

Confessions of Celebrant

A wedding celebrant gives you the freedom to customise the process of declaring your vows all over the globe. Here's a round-up of some officiants detailing their services

Jacqueline Soares

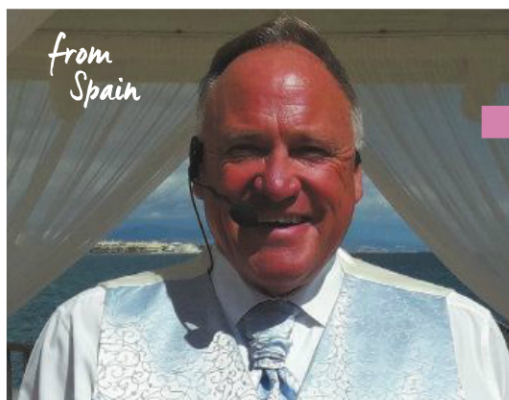

“Over the years I've had the honor of co-creating the perfect ceremony for couples and partners of all faiths and individuality. The greatest gift I can give couples is my ability to listen to them and their desires for the wedding vow ceremony. Your day, your way!”

Marian Hale

ALL CEREMONIES BEAUTIFULLY DONE

“Do you want a wedding that will keep your guests interested and involved? For 20 years, I have been assisting couples with interfaith, same sex, nondenominational, spiritual, non-religious weddings and elopements. Let's get together soon to discuss your plans!”

Allan Davies

ALLAN DAVIES CELEBRANT SERVICES

“During my initial interviews with couples, I try to encourage them to involve as many people as possible, including guest readers, children and pets! One couple enlisted the help of their black labrador, who ran into the sea when delivering the rings! He was retrieved, along with the rings, but it certainly resulted in a lot of laughs and photos.”

Claire Mountain

MOUNTAIN CELEBRATIONS

“Our team of diploma Qualified Celebrants can individually design your bespoke ceremony. All will be created and delivered with professionalism, warmth and feeling. We embrace love, laughter, and happiness, so share your memories with Mountain Celebrations and make your dreams come true.”

Susan Parth-Blackman

HOCHZEITSREDNER TIROL

“Say ‘I do’ on top of a mountain! I have married many couples in beautiful Austrian locations, such as castles, gardens, mountains, and even on ski-slopes. Let us transform your dream into a memorable, heart-warming and personal ceremony. Say ‘yes’ and let your dream wedding by the first step in your life together.”
